At about 9:00 a.m. I went over to my brother's trailer because he had been to my house before I woke up (my son told me). He said he just wanted coffee but didn't want coffee any more. He said I owed him $70 and did I have it. I couldn't figure out where the $70 came from but he started yelling so I left and on my way back across the road he told me I better get his yard cleaned up. I told him I would after breakfast.

About ten or fifteen minutes later he was at my door yelling how I better explain some things to him and about cleaning up his yard. I told him to go back across the street because he was mad and we could talk when he calmed. He left but came back ten minutes later even madder.

This time he was yelling and making wild arm-gestures on my porch and when I told him to leave he said to come out there and make him leave, at which time I noticed a hammer on the ground at his feet, so I jumped down and grabbed the hammer because I was afraid he might grab it (he has hit me with hammer before). I picked it up and told him to go home but he hit me in my head and I threw the hammer away so nobody would get seriously hurt. We wrestled around in the yard until I got Andy in a choke hold and he finally stopped struggling and I let him up and he went back across the street.
